University of Cyprus, Nicosia

Transformations in L1 education:
Current challenges and future possibilities

Dear ARLE members and colleagues

With the completion of the review process for the 13th Biannual Conference of the International Association for Research in L1 Education (ARLE), we invite you once more to attend the Conference, which we are confident will be an intellectually inspiring and culturally enriching meeting. As COVID-19 restrictions are gradually removed and with our University returning to in-person teaching and activities, the Conference aspires to bring most attendees physically together. It still maintains its hybrid format so that those who are not able to travel to Cyprus at the time of the conference would still attend online.

Registration is open to anyone interested in the conference theme and content. To facilitate the organization process, the local organizing committee encourages you to register at your earliest convenience (early bird registration ends 15 March 2021) and no later than 15 April 2022, if you are accepted to present at the Conference. This will ensure that the conference program will be set out early in May.

The conference organizers have contacted a number of hotels located in Nicosia city centre, as well as the UC Hall Residence which is located next to the New University Campus, and have secured discounted prices for interested conference participants. Please note that participants should contact the hotels and the UC Hall Residence directly to book their accommodation. A code is required to book a room at a discounted price, while reservations are subject to availability at the time of final written confirmation. Hotel names, discounted prices and contact details are provided at the end of this newsletter.

The conference website (<https://newdev.ucy.ac.cy/arle2022/>) is renewed regularly with information on the conference venue, accommodation, travel, and transportation. You may refer to it for details and or contact the local organizing team and the ARLE Board arle2022conference@gmail.com for any clarification and or questions.

Looking forward to seeing you in Cyprus

The ARLE 2022 organizing committee
